

Fact Sheet

Lasagna Love was started at the beginning of the pandemic by one mom (Rhiannon Menn) looking for a way to help others in her community. She and her young daughter began making and delivering meals to neighborhood families struggling with pandemic woes. Some were contending with income or job loss as well as general fear or overwhelm. Menn realized what was needed most was comfort and kindness. She started preparing extra meals and offered to deliver them to neighbors' doorsteps to provide a small break (a virtual warm hug) from everyday worries while assuring them that someone cared enough and was looking out for them. This small act of kindness served as an easily replicated approach that crossed all language and cultural barriers. Menn's kind act quickly moved to action several others within her social orbit, and in doing so, initiated a viral movement that gained exponential traction across the nation. Americans were looking for a safe and thoughtful way to stay connected at a time when we were disconnected--from everyone and everything. The non-profit's ultimate vision is to weave kindness back into the very fabric of our everyday lives. Even as we emerge from the pandemic, acts of kindness will forever be a welcome sight.

What does Lasagna Love do? Our mission is simple: feed families, spread kindness, and strengthen communities. Our efforts not only help address food insecurity, but also provide an act of welcome comfort and kindness during a time of uncertainty, exhaustion, or stress. On its 2nd Anniversary, Lasagna Love released survey findings proving the network effect of kindness—helping to catapult the organization's efforts to reweave kindness into our everyday lives as humans emerge from nearly two years of pandemic-related challenges.

How does it work? Our global community of Lasagna Chefs (LCs) (volunteers) prepare lasagnas each week and deliver them free of charge and contact-free to the doorstep of local families who have requested a meal. Families can privately sign up to receive a meal (no questions asked!), a process which eliminates any stigmas or barriers associated with asking for help. Once a family is matched with a LC, the volunteer coordinates preparation using the contact information provided (as some families have dietary requests or restrictions) and schedules a day and time to deliver the meal.

How many meals has Lasagna Love delivered? Lasagna Love currently delivers, on average, 2,500 - 3,500 lasagnas each week. To date, the non-profit has impacted more than ONE MILLION lives through the delivery of more than 250,000 meals --in two years!

How many Lasagna Chefs support Lasagna Love?

Lasagna Love has successfully united more than 35,000 active volunteers from all walks of life--decimating invisible barriers created by gender, age, race, political standing, or socio-economic background--through its shared purpose. Women, men, couples, families and even clubs and organizations such as Girl Scout troops, have participated in the movement. In the Fall of 2021, Lasagna Love announced expansion of its work beyond America's borders and is now active in Australia and Canada.

How can someone get involved with Lasagna Love? Interested participants need only sign up through the Lasagna Love portal, complete brief online training associated with safe food preparation, and share how often they wish to participate. Volunteers participate as much or as little as desired -- whether one-time, weekly, or monthly. This flexible model allows each person to give when and how they wish.
